Titus began as military tribune
in Germany and Britain.

He then returned to Rome and married Arrecina Tertulla, daughter of the former commander of the praetorian guard. She died after only a year or so of marriage.

Letter of St Paul to Ephesians
Ania Minor.

10th book of New Testament

61 A.D.

BOADICEA, the famous British warrior queen, wife of PRASUTAGUS, King of the Iceni. On her husband's death in 61 A.D. the Romans had seized the territory, scourged the widow for her opposition and violated her two daughters. BOUDICEA raised a revolt of the Iceni and TRINOVANTES, burned CAMULODUNUM (Colchester),

LONDINIUM (London), and VEROLANIUM
(St. Albans), but when finally routed by SURENTIUS PAULINUS, she took poison. She is subject of poems by Cowper and Tennyson.

A.D. 61

Queen Boudicca's estate was seized. Roman soldiers stripped her naked and flogged her. She marshalled an army of over 100,000 ICENI. The Roman legions were severely wounded. Help Come. Virtually destroyed Celtic culture.
